CLARESHOLM LOCAL NEWS

Mrs. R. S. Law spent a few days this week in Calgary.

John Stange left on Wednesday to visit his old home in Ontario.

Mrs. H. Thomas who was operated on in Calgary this week is reported as progressing favorably.

Barber's bread has the goodness put right inside the loaf—the proper place—where you can taste it.

S. C. Williams who has recently been living in Portland, Oregon, is spending a week or two looking after his business interests here.

The well known Maude Henderson Repertoire Co. are booked for the Rex theater for a period of four nights, commencing Monday, December 20th.

E. A. Corbett from the University of Alberta, and probably others, will address the College Y. on next Sunday afternoon. All welcome.

Auctioneer Albert E. Strange has been engaged by the Macleod L. F. A. Co-operative store to conduct their big closing out sale on Friday and Saturday next week.

When you lay bread, ask for Barber's Milk Bread, on sale at Bothwell & Ireton's and J. M. Soby's. Costs no more than ordinary household bread and tastes better. Two loaves for 25 cents.

The annual meeting of the Claresholm L. F. W. A. will be held on Saturday, December 18, at 2:30 sharp. All members make a special effort to be on hand as election of officers takes place. Also the appointing of delegates to the annual provincial convention to be held in Edmonton. Will the new members come along and get acquainted.—Sec-Treasurer.

TO THE ELECTORS OF CLARESHOLM

At the request of a large number of prominent ratepayers, I have consented to allow my name to come before you as a candidate for the office of mayor. I do not come to you with promises that cannot be carried out, but I do promise that if elected I will use my best efforts to see that the funds of the town are expended in a businesslike way.

I am in favor of keeping the electric current on two half days each week for washing and ironing, etc., provided a sufficient number apply for it. I am also in favor of making every possible improvement in our sanitary by-laws, the appointment of a competent inspector, and the proper taking care of animals running at large.

The annual report presented two weeks ago showed a decided improvement of the previous one and it will be my endeavor if elected to make the next one better still.

I believe in giving the people service and will spare no efforts in rendering such.

I will appreciate your support on Monday next, 13th.

Respectfully,
W. KNIGHT

RINGROSE FOR MAYOR

I respectfully solicit your support and vote at the poll next Monday for mayor.

If elected, my aim will be to do away with every unnecessary expenditure of the town's money, having, nevertheless, the aim to place and maintain the town utility in a high degree of efficiency.

I pledge myself, if elected, to deal with every matter solely and entirely on its own merit.

I have previously served on the town council for a number of years, having given my best attention to the department allotted to me, as many of you know, and, if elected, I will give to the town service my best.

GEORGE W. RINGROSE.

Big Dramatic Stock Co. Coming

The well known Maude Henderson Repertoire Co. will hold the boards at the Rex Theater for a period of four nights, commencing Monday, December 20. They will present a different play each night, also good clean vaudeville will be introduced between the acts, by Little Kathryn Hall and Billy Trout.

The Company comes to us highly recommended by the press and public. All special scenery is used for each production. They will open their engagement here in "Hissha, Carriage." There are eleven people in the Company and nothing has been left undone to make this attraction one of the best stock companies touring the northwest. Prices: Children under 12 years of age 35c. Adults 75c. Plus war tax. Don't forget the date, December 20th.

Editor Review-Advertiser.

In reply to the article in your last issue signed "Ratepayer" I would like to suggest to said "Ratepayer" had he attended the meeting of the council he would be enlightened as to the cause of the absent chairman.

It is about right about what he says regarding the "mayor having to call upon his secretary to deliver into municipal affairs." Perhaps if the mayor had worked more in conjunction with the chairman of the various departments he would have had a report from each chairman regarding his committee work. As it was the mayor acting on the advice and suggestions of "his" secretary had taken the work of the different committees out of their hands altogether.

When a chairman of a department is compelled to take the criticism when his department is not going well, he also wants some of the credit when it does go right. Now had the mayor and "his secretary" not wanted at the credit and none of the criticism, why did they try to run the different departments as they "only" saw fit? Why did the mayor take it upon himself to treat the action taken by the council, in one and several things, with disrespect?

It has been brought to my notice, that had the mayor "sit tight" by the decisions of the council as a whole, he would have had no cause to complain about the chairman.

An Absentee.

The Thomas H. Ince special production, "Behind the Door," coming to the Rex soon.

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 10, 1929

Many pleasure trips that were planned for the winter have been cancelled owing to losses through the drop in wheat prices.

The remarkably fine fall weather still continues. This will take rank as one of the finest and mildest fall seasons on record in southern Alberta. It has not been cold enough yet to make skating ice on the outdoor rink. A citizen remarked in the reports of the hearing a few days ago that we would have a change of weather this week because there was a change in the moon. He overlooked the fact that this was the fifth change in the moon since there was a change in the weather and the further fact that all weather signs fail in Alberta.

HOW TO VOTE

In former elections there have been a number of spoiled ballots, which is conclusive evidence that there are some voters who do not understand the balloting system fully.

At next Monday's election there will be three ballots. The ballot for mayor will have the names of two candidates. The vote to vote will be to place a X in the white space after the name of the candidate of your choice. The ballot for school trustees will have the names of five candidates. Three are to be elected, therefore place a X following the names of the three candidates of your choice. Do not place the cross on the name thereby crossing it out, but place it in the blank space after the name. Do not vote for more than three or less than three or it spoils your ballot and it cannot be counted for anyone. You must vote for three and for three only in order to have your ballot counted.

The ballot for school trustees will have the names of five candidates, three of which are to be elected. The directions given in the foregoing paragraph regarding balloting for councillors applies in all respects to the ballot for school trustees.

No other marks but the cross are permitted to be made on the voter on any ballot. Any other marks will invalidate your ballot. These directions appear to be clear and understandable. If voters will observe them there will be no spoiled ballots.

Grain Belt Farmers Meet

A meeting of more than ordinary interest was held at the Grain Belt hotel on Friday evening, December 5th. There has been for some time a growing feeling of uneasiness among the farmers regarding the apparent increase of the weed problem and it exists in some parts of the municipality. There has been considerable stress come out of the criticism of the present administration and its methods, or at alleged lack of method, in combating a situation that has rapidly grown to desperate stages in some parts and to a very real and increasing menace to all.

Several farmers were present from the southern part of the municipality where the situation is at present the worst and they were eloquent in their efforts to impress those of us more favorably situated with the gravity of the situation and the immediate need of every possible effort that can be given this afflicted area. It was pointed out that there are many more in that district who because of drought and drifting soil, etc., have had very little return, and in some cases none, from their land in the past three years, and that many are now in such financial straits that it is impossible for them to finance another season, much less a campaign of weed extermination on the scale required to make any headway against them.

Without any wish to excite the plight of any one section of the country over any other, it still seems well to give such publicity to this situation as will bring home to all concerned the undoubted seriousness of the matter to which most of us have given only a cursory consideration. It was stated, and those who have listened through that section will attest, that there are large areas where the Russian thistle, Russian pigweed, sambar mustard, and others, have made such gains in number and size that the seedlings are almost impossible, the vines pulled from the fences, and the fields so completely infested that any known implement in method seems powerless.

There seems little hope of any adequate relief for this area except in a return to a season of two of abundant and seasonable rainfall (and for the consolation of those most affected, the winter wishes to say that, from his observation of nearly similar conditions in the immediate and flag growing days of North Dakota, such a season may be the first of these late-springing weeds), but until such time comes again, it was strongly urged that any means within the power of the committee of the municipality be used for relief, so that there may not be necessary any such forced exodus as now seems imminent.

The matter of road grading was discussed as a companion issue and the suggestion made that, if it were impossible to lighten the burden of taxation for the weed-infested districts, the present or higher rates might be more judiciously applied to the vital issue of weed work at the expense of the road work, more particularly in those districts where at present a good road is of lesser importance to a people who have little or nothing to haul over it. There was considerable discussion of road-making methods and some criticism of the system now in use, some going so far as to advocate the discontinuance of the big traction grader for a time. Mr. Gibson of the council board, who was present, staunchly defended the present system as, though admittedly imperfect, the best possible at our present stage of development and the method best calculated to give best service to the greatest number.

A motion urging the adoption of a policy of strict economy in the road department and the use of funds so desired, instead of by within the power of the council, in a more vigorous campaign against the weeds was lost by a very close vote, but there is little doubt that members of the council who were present were so thoroughly and sympathetically impressed that they will adopt any action along that line which they find possible.

The meeting closed at midnight with a vote of thanks to the friends from the southern part of the municipality who brought us a warning along with their plea for aid, and to Messrs. Sherman and Gibson of the council for their sincere and sympathetic understanding of the matters discussed and for the manner in which they have endeavored to perform the difficult duties of their office for the last good of the community.

H. C. PINE,
Chairman of meeting

OBITUARY

Mr. THOS. H. FIELD, an old and esteemed resident of the Penhold district, passed to his rest on Saturday at Vancouver, B.C., whether he had gone for his health. Mr. Field was of a retiring disposition, and devoted to his family. Some years ago he represented his district in the L. I. D. council. He was Liberal in politics, and a member of the Presbyterian church. His death will leave quite a blank among the old-timers of the district. Mr. Field was born in Durham county, Ont., on September 27, 1848. In 1878 he married Margaret Galbreith, of Blackstock, Ontario, eldest daughter of Mr. Edward Galbreith, and moved to Grafton, North Dakota, where he was engaged in farming until the year 1891 when he moved to Penhold with his family and homesteaded three miles south of Penhold, where he stayed for five years. He then moved to southern Alberta in 1896, where he was in the employ of the C. P. R. for ten years and was also engaged in farming in the Narrows district. In the year 1906 he moved with his family back to Penhold. He was falling a little in health all summer and left on September 27 for Vancouver for a rest and change where he expected to regain his health, but gradually got worse and had to go to the hospital. About two weeks before and his condition became serious and his son and daughter went over and remained with him to the end and brought the remains to Red Deer for burial.

Mr. Field is survived by his widow and six children—two sons and four daughters; viz., David and Mrs. W. J. Douglas, of Penhold; Ernest and Jack at Grafton, B. C.; Mrs. E. E. West, of Westminister, B. C.; and Mrs. C. Miller, of Clareholm, Alberta. Dr. Oswald leaves his brother Robert, Toronto; a sister, Mrs. A. Klusman, Toronto; Dr. Alex. Field, of Forest River, North Dakota; James Field, of Forest River, and Mrs. Wadsworth, of Meadon City, Connecticut. There was one son dead at Clareholm on February 4, 1903, at the age of 29 years.

The body arrived in Red Deer on Tuesday afternoon and was taken to H. G. Stone & Son's funeral parlors. The service was held on Wednesday afternoon in the Presbyterian church, Red Deer, and was conducted by Rev. Harrison, of Penhold, assisted by Rev. W. G. Brown, of Red Deer. The services were attended by relatives, friends and neighbors from his home district, and some beautiful floral offerings accompanied the remains. The funeral took place to the Red Deer cemetery—Red Deer, Alberta.
